Srinagar, the summer capital of the Indian-administered Jammu and Kashmir, is home to a stunning urban lake called Dal. Nestled in the disputed Kashmir region, Dal Lake is not only the second largest lake in Jammu and Kashmir but also one of the most popular tourist attractions in the area.

Discovering the Beauty of Dal Lake

Dal Lake is a picturesque water body that stretches over an area of approximately 18 square kilometers. Surrounded by majestic mountains and lush greenery, it offers a serene and tranquil environment to all who visit.

One of the most unique features of Dal Lake is its floating gardens. These gardens, known as “Rad” in the local language, are created by weaving together layers of aquatic vegetation and soil. As you cruise along the lake, you’ll be mesmerized by the vibrant colors of the flowers and the intricate patterns of the floating gardens.

Another enchanting aspect of Dal Lake is the houseboats. These traditional wooden boats, known as “Shikaras,” serve as floating accommodations for tourists. Staying in a houseboat is a truly unforgettable experience, allowing you to wake up to the gentle lapping of water and enjoy breathtaking views of the lake.
