Karim City College, located in Jamshedpur, India, holds the distinction of being one of the oldest degree colleges in the Jharkhand state. Established in 1961, the college was founded with the noble mission of providing education to the weaker sections of society, particularly the Muslim community. Over the years, Karim City College has grown into a premier educational institution in eastern India, offering a wide range of Intermediate, Undergraduate, and Postgraduate courses in arts, commerce, and science.

The college is a Muslim minority institution, operating under the guidance of Karim's Trust, and is permanently affiliated with Kolhan University. Its commitment to inclusivity and equal opportunities has made it a beacon of hope for students from all walks of life. Karim City College has played a pivotal role in empowering individuals and transforming their lives through education.

Karim City College owes its existence to the visionary efforts of its founder, Late Syed Tafazzul Karim. With a deep understanding of the importance of education in uplifting communities, he established the college to bridge the educational gap and provide opportunities to the marginalized sections of Jamshedpur. His dedication and foresight laid the foundation for a remarkable institution that continues to thrive to this day.

Following the sad demise of Late Syed Tafazzul Karim, his son, Late S.M. Shafiq, took up the mantle of patronizing the college. His leadership and unwavering commitment to the college's mission propelled it to new heights. Unfortunately, his passing in 1992 left a void that needed to be filled. Fortunately, the college found a worthy successor in Mr. Syed Ashfaque Karim, the present trustee.

Under the guidance of Mr. Syed Ashfaque Karim, Karim City College has embraced a modern and progressive approach to education. His visionary outlook and dedication to excellence have propelled the college on a trajectory of growth and success. The college has witnessed significant advancements in infrastructure, teaching methods, and technological integration, ensuring that students receive a holistic and future-ready education.
